

Futsal: Facility Guidelines

What You Need and How to Adapt What You Have

Surface

Ideally Futsal should be played indoors on a wooden or synthetic surface. However, where indoor facilities are not available or accessible, the game can be played outdoors on a flat hard surface. The game should not be played on grass, but as a last resort can be played on artificial grass – though this will slow the game down.

Field size guidelines

Adapting Facilities for Futsal

Although Washington Youth Soccer encourages teams and participants to seek to play Futsal on a proper full-size indoor Futsal pitch that has the appropriate markings wherever possible, we realize that this will not always be possible and, in the current stage of developing the game of Futsal, a degree of flexibility needs to be considered with regards to facility usage.

However, in schools and local sports centers, you can use other markings to play Futsal. WA Youth Soccer recognizes that some of these recommendations do not fully adhere to FIFA's Futsal Laws of the Game, but are only intended for informal and social Futsal to assist the game's growth and development by maximizing available facilities.

Use a basketball court and make it work

THANK YOU!

